Volunteer Chorus Leader

Description

Villa Maria Manor is looking for a chorus leader for 20 residents at its senior independent living facility. The music professional or recent music program graduate will lead rehearsals and vocal guidance in the newly renovated practice room with a piano, a sound system, and plenty of interest and desire for harmonized song.

As this group of singers develops, we anticipate more people joining the emerging chorus.

We're looking for a music professional or recent music program graduate to help us make music in parts harmony.

We come to the chorus from former choirs and choral/instrumental groups, semi-professional singers, from all corners of the globe, ready to make music together. Now we need someone willing to take on the group, organize, and blend our voices into a performing chorus of many styles of choral music.

Might there be someone in a diocese congregation who would take this opportunity with us?

Time given would be rehearsal and vocal guidance, and a shared love of choral music. We hope to be able to acknowledge leadership with small compensation.
